New Community Counseling Center Opens

(Moorestown, NJ) In response to a growing public need for counseling services, Moorestown Visiting Nurse Association has opened a new community counseling center at 300 Harper Drive, Moorestown. The center, conveniently located off Route 38, near the Moorestown Mall, offers counseling services to all residents of South Jersey.

The Community Counseling Center of Moorestown VNA serves adults, teens and children, and provides a wide range of therapeutic interventions. Counseling and treatment includes, but is not limited to, services for those coping with addictions and substance abuse, anxiety and stress, anger management, behavioral issues, and depression.

Grief support groups and individual grief counseling are another major category of services offered by the center. Moorestown Visiting Nurse Association has a history of providing comprehensive support services for those who are struggling to cope with life following the loss of a loved one.

The staff of The Community Counseling Center includes Doctoral and Master's level clinicians with a variety of background and experience. Anthony Christinzie, Ph.D, LPC leads the team of expert counselors. Says Dr. Christinzie, “Moorestown Visiting Nurse Association has recognized the great need in South Jersey for accessible counseling services. We are able to match individuals with the appropriate counselor in a very timely manner...this is so important for a family in crisis. With the opening of The Community Counseling Center of Moorestown VNA, area families have a completely new resource available to quickly and professionally meet their need for counseling services.”

The Community Counseling Center of Moorestown VNA is open Monday to Friday 9am to 5pm, and evenings by special appointment. The private and secure offices offer a relaxing and comforting environment that aids the therapeutic process for clients and their families. For information, or to make an appointment call (856) 380-1070.

Founded in 1904, Moorestown Visiting Nurse Association is a non-profit home and community based healthcare provider serving families in Burlington, Camden and Gloucester counties.
